Conclusion

The Christian life is "Christ in you" (Colossians 1:27). When Christ is in a life, the "reasonable service" (Romans 12:1) (more literally, "logical ministry") is presented as a living sacrifice. A sacrifice is that which is totally devoted to God. The Holy Spirit renews the mind, making it possible for the believer to test, or prove, that good and acceptable and perfect will of God.

The Christian life is a positive walk of fellowship with God and His people. The pleasures of sin are replaced with the things of God. With Christ as Lord, the Holy Spirit indwelling the believer and God as Father, the things of this earth grow very dim. The Christian life becomes a positive, joyful walk with the Lord. It is not a negative creed filled with legalism. Jesus said, "If the Son, therefore, shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." John 8:36
